

Biography

Kitty Champion undertook her basic iridology training with Harri Wolf, Richard Schulze, Dr John Christopher, Ellen Tart-Jensen, David Pesek and Jack Tipps (all of the USA), Farida Sharan (UK), Dorothy Hall (Australia), Willy Hauser (Germany), Dr Mikhail Dailekis (Greece) and has been practising iridology for 34 years.

She went onto study emotional and spiritual iridology with Dr Daniele Lo Rito (Italy), Dr Pierre Fragnay, the late, great Boris De Bardo (France), Gino Bellinfante (Canada), Professor Javier Griso Salome (Spain) and Dr Etienne Callebout (UK).

Recognising the need to assist patients with detailed emotional guidance and deep spiritual insight she began her training with the international organisation Psychology of Vision in 2000 and completed her post graduate training in 2006. She has since run many successful workshops teaching both practitioners and patients the art of emotional intelligence and metaphysical understanding.

Regarded as an innovative and radical medical herbalist her profound interest in moving physical, emotional and etheric energy through the body using detoxification, dietary adjustments, herbs, sound, light and vibrational therapies has also led her to train in six different styles of bodywork. She was awarded as PhD in herbal medicine in 1983 by Dr John Christopher's School of Natural Healing and is the author of 10 books detailing her experience in natural healthcare working with more than 25,000 clients. She ran a school training students to professional standards in herbal medicine and iridology in the UK for 20 years and has the ability to convey serious information compassionately and entertainingly.

Creating Happiness

This is a course about Emotional Evolution and Emotional Intelligence. Evolving emotionally is about learning to be intelligent and mature with our emotions and feelings. Emotions, properly experienced and understood, are a perfect mechanism for creating personal growth and successful relationships which are key to happiness.

Emotional Intelligence is the ability to be really authentic and honest with our feelings. It is the central pillar for our success in life. It is the maturity to be accountable for our feelings and not impose them on others, so sabotaging any chances of intimacy and fulfilment.

Open to practitioners to improve their work with clients, to couples, singles and anyone who wants to learn to re-set their relationship course in order to experience more potential and growth. The course led by Kitty Champion, offers a safe and supportive environment filled with wisdom, warmth and insight.

THE TIMES

The Times

"Kitty was able to tell me that I had parasites living in my colon, spleen and kidneys, resulting in my body performing at only 80% of its capacity and interfering with my immune digestive systems and nutritional levels.....the parasite was likely to be Giardia Lambia that I picked up in India 3 years ago, and the culprit for the Irritable Bowel Syndrome, aching limbs, tiredness and weight loss which I have been experiencing; all symptoms dismissed by my GP as stress-related".

The West Australian

The West Australian

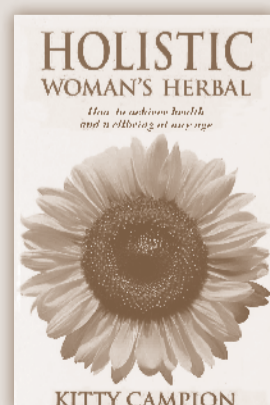

"Kitty believes many alternative practitioners fail to offer holistic advice to their patients largely because they don't embrace mind body and spirit equally as important in patient diagnosis. Coupled with consideration for the complexities of environmental, genetic and physiological factors, Kitty truly sees the big picture.

FINANCIAL TIMES

Financial Times

"I discovered that I had a low sperm count as my wife and I were trying to have a baby....the Vega machine showed that I had been poisoned while working in a chemical factory in Germany and detected an overload on my lymphatic system because of a dormant virus. There were also pesticides affecting my colon. Over the course of the treatment my sperm count doubled and by the end I felt transformed. My mental alacrity is now superb; I never get colds and my energy is phenomenal."
